

This exercise augments classroom work on project status reports, related discussion, and summarizing work for different readerships.

1. List the members of your group below. Underline your name.

2. (a) Note the following briefly for the first presentation: i. Presenter, project advisor, and project title. ii. Focus of the project. iii. Current status.
(b) Write a short paragraph summarizing the above details, with a CS sophomore as the intended reader.
(c) Repeat Question 2b for an expert in the project's field.

3. Repeat Question 2 for the second presentation.
