This exercise augments class review of mini-presentations, focusing on the introduction and summary of the full presentations.

1. List the members of your group below. Underline your name.

2. Critique the mini-presentation, focusing on the elements important to good introductions and conclusions. Include identifying information, title, main ideas, strengths, and weaknesses for each.

   For repeat presentations, note improvements and responses to earlier comments.
[additional space for answering the earlier question]